WAY FORWARD

LEGISLATION

186 countries have committed to implementing laws to get rid of child labour, but enforcing these laws can be a challenge.

EDUCATION

Ensuring children have access to free, public compulsory quality education opens up a myriad of possibilities for them to define their own futures.

TECHNOLOGY

Identifying labour-saving techniques and technologies can mean saving time and money – and saving the need for extra children's hands.

SOLIDARITY

When adults can improve their own financial security and speak up for their rights, they are less likely to put their children to work.

END CHILD LABOUR AND BUILD A SAFER AND A PROSPEROUS FUTURE FOR ALL
